DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 28-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter, which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The specification as originally filed states "citrus juice" product. Citrus is a subset of all the different types of juice that can be put in a container and sold. The examiner believes that merely putting the term "juice" in the claim broadens the scope of the claims beyond what was originally provided for and supported by the specification as originally filed.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

- Claims 21, 23, and 24 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The phrase "a heat sealable layer of a polyolefin comprising one of said plurality of layers" is grammatically confusing.

Art Unit: 1773

The “Whole comprises the Parts” and “The Parts compose the Whole”. In this instance the plurality of layers comprise the individual layers not the converse as written. Please review claims 21, 23 and 24 regarding this issue.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 6/19/2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The examiner maintains that the scope of claim 28 is not supported by the specification as originally filed.
